Matinee Saturday

About 110,000,000 gallons of water daily will be allowed to run to waste from the great reservoir of the Metropolitan water commission at Clinton, Mass., for a few days, the dam being full for the first time in four years.

NEW MANAGER FOR THEATERS

Among the passengers on the Ventura, to arrive here tomorrow morning, is Richard Kipling, well known in professional and amateur theatrical circles. He is coming here to take the full management of the Bijou and Kipling theaters. Mr. Kipling has had from twelve to fifteen years' experience in stage work and it is expected that he will make a very successful manager of the two theaters.

RICHARD KIPLING
Who Will Manage Bijou and Empire Theaters

ment theaters for the past year, is retiring from the theatrical management in order to give more attention to other Magoon interests, such as the real estate, steam laundry and carriage business. Mr. Magoon, although a young man, with little theatrical experience, has made a very successful manager of the two amusement houses. But, as he states in regard to his resignation, "Mr. Kipling's return to Honolulu presents an opportunity to secure a very experienced manager for the theaters, and my father has many other interests which need attention, and so I am voluntarily resigning from the theatrical management to take up the other work."

William Lindley, who held up and killed Patrick Burns, a New York saloon keeper and former chief of police of Findlay, Ill., on February 11, was convicted of murder in the first degree.

GET TICKETS FOR MAUI

The Inter-Island Company is selling tickets for the Maui excursion by the Claudine, which leaves here the afternoon of the 3rd of July and returns on the morning of the 5th in time for business. A large number of persons have already booked but the Claudine is large enough to carry a good many more. It will be a great day and a good program. Maui has always put up plenty of means of enjoyment for the people who visit Waialuku and this year will be no exception. $8.00 pays for the round trip.

Selection—Lohengrin Wagner
Vocal—Hawaiian Songs, Ar. by Berger
Selection—Tannhauser Wagner
Ballad—La Paloma Yradier
Finale—From House to House, Faust
The Star Spangled Banner.

The Arizona Senate, after a bitter debate, passed the educational qualification measure, which provides that all voters shall be able to read, write and speak the English language.

MIND FOOD IS "THE BLUEBIRD"

There was not a large crowd at the Opera House last evening, but those who did go felt fully repaid for the evening so spent. Unlike other features of entertainment, after the closing words of "The Bluebird" there remains in the mind a thought that will not fade. The interpretation of this masterpiece, "The Bluebird," leaves one in a condition of mind when communion with one's self leads on and on until complication of thoughts arise, and one cannot see the end, but there is a calmness over all, and a desire to follow in the footsteps of the happiness-seeking children.

Wilson Fitch left nothing to be desired as to the interpretation. In fact, he so carried the minds of his audience to mental scenes beyond him to such an extent that the vehicle was at times forgotten.

One thing is certain, that a desire most pronounced to see "The Bluebird" staged and presented in its entirety has been created.

The impression made on the minds of those attending last night will spread throughout the city, and at the next appearance of Mr. Fitch the hall should be filled to the doors.

TALENTED MUSICIANS PROVE THEIR MERIT

Honolulu is a musically inclined city. Every time an artist of merit appears in concert the demand for seats is sufficiently large to encourage the musician to give the best his abilities will allow. The musician at the church, Tuesday was a recognition of the ability of Frederick Biggerstaff and Wm. Edwin Chamberlain, who were guests of honor. No less than sixty leading musicians and society people of Honolulu were present. The gentlemen proved themselves all their previous notices said of them, and the applause which followed almost every number of a program consisting of a half hour was indeed flattering.

WM. EDWIN CHAMBERLAIN
Baritone

Mr. Chamberlain has a baritone voice in quality and range, his low notes being particularly sympathetic. And his expression is excellent. As a pianist Mr. Biggerstaff was far beyond expectations. The reception of the various numbers Tuesday night may be taken as an indication of what these accomplished gentlemen may expect at the appearance in Bishop Hall, Punahou, Monday evening, when they will give their first public concert. Their reputations as musicians precede them, for they are known to many who have heard them in recitals on the Coast, and when really good music is a theme the Honoluluans are quick to recognize merit and make it known. A crowded house is assured on this occasion.

HUGHES COMPANY WILL HAVE NEW COMEDY AT BIJOU TONIGHT

Musical comedy, rippling with melody and chockablock with wit and humor, disguised under the title of "Under the Matzo Tree," will hold the boards at the Bijou tonight and tomorrow night. This will be one of the last opportunities to see the Hughes company for several months, as its engagement comes to close Saturday night. "Under the Matzo Tree" gives Le Blanc, as the Hebrew, one of the best opportunities to display his talents. He is ably assisted by Stanhope as the fat German, by Madame Lloyd with new songs, Fritz Guy with new dances, and the chorus in something new.

It is a comedy that will make you laugh.

Try a Laugh

"It's a weary kind of universe," we people often say.
"An everlasting round of work, with very little play."
But when you're feeling grumpy. Absolutely sad and "hummy." Here's a little tip to drive the blues away. Try the magic of a laugh. For it robs the world of half the worries that beset her every day. And the beauty of the method is that under laughter's spell the gloomy folk around you all forget their gloom as well.

When your prospect's out of focus and you're quite prepared to swear that of reasons to be sulky you've an extra bulky share.

Just imagine that your trouble is at most a little bubble which, detached, will simply fade into the air. Try the magic of a laugh. For it robs the world of half the worry that besets her and too cars out this little fact remember when you're grumpily inclined. Keep your face toward the sunshine and the shadows fall behind.
